Songo Road Ready For Tar In Spring

Work on the road between Bethel village and the Albany town line near Songo Pond was completed in readiness for a tarvia coating last week. With its black surface next spring this road will be a marked improvement over the worn-out road which has been forced to bear heavy summer traffic for a long time.

The WPA crew which has been employed on the Songo road is now at work at Northwest Bethel near the home of Elmer Stearns. Work was done on the road in that locality last year after the flood, but there is opportunity for much improvement between that point and the Gilead line.

DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION ISSUES WINTER FOLDER

"Maine For Winter Sports," a folder listing the winter attractions of the Pine Tree State, is being distributed by the Maine Development Commission.

Composed of pictures, text, a map, and detailed specifications, the folder lists 24 regions in the state that are making bids for recognition as winter sports centers.

Featured throughout the folder is the fact that Maine offers more than just one or two winter activities. Among the sports that may be enjoyed in the winter are: skiing, skating, snowshoeing, ice boating, and horseracing on the ice.

It is revealed also that it is not necessary to be an expert to enjoy winter sports in Maine; that there are thousands of hills where the beginner can founder around until he becomes accustomed to handling skis or snowshoes.

For the proficient, the folder points out there are numerous regions in the state that offer high class modern facilities; well made trails, fine open slopes, and ski tows.

Even for those not athletically inclined a Maine winter vacation may be a source of enjoyment, the folder asserts, adding that with the state now keeping highways well plowed at all times, automobile drives in the winter afford a means for breaking the monotony of the season.

Believing that winter vacations are increasing in popularity and that many enthusiasts will visit the snow areas for protracted stays, the folder points out that there is an abundance of clean, comfortable accommodations available in the wintertime.

The map of the state included in the folder shows the more important highways leading to the various developments.

The 25 pictures with which the folder is illustrated depict many of the various activities to be enjoyed in the state as well as many winter scenic views.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lisherness of Rangeley were in town Friday, calling on friends. They were en route for Florida where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. W. R. Chapman has closed her home and with her daughter has gone to Chicago to visit her sisters until after Christmas, when they will go to Florida for the winter.

LEGION INVITES COOPERATION GIVING CHRISTMAS BASKETS

The George A. Mundt Post, No. 81, American Legion invite all organizations and individuals to join with them in giving Christmas Baskets this year.

Anything is welcome--clothing, toys, vegetables, canned goods or money.

Last year with the help of several other organizations and many individuals, 35 baskets were placed where they were very welcome.

Barrels will be placed in the several grocery stores and people are asked to place donations in them or leave word at the Telephone Office and the Legion will see that somebody calls at your house.

WHAT HAS BEEN HAPPENING IN THE BOY SCOUT TROOP

The meeting of Dec. 13 was led in opening and closing by Irving Brown.

Glendon McAllister received his Tenderfoot Badge and passed his Second Class Compass Test.

On the hike held Saturday, Glendon McAllister, Rodney Brooks and Barker Hopkins passed their Second Class Fire Building Test.

Two patrols have been formed in the Scouts, under the leadership of J. Maynard Austin and Irving Brown. Under Maynard there are Robert Greenleaf, Glendon McAllister, Sherman Williamson, Philip Daye and Louis Kellogg. Irving has Rodney Brooks, Barker Hopkins, Carlos Smith and Clayton Sweet.

Any new boys joining the Troop will be placed in the patrol having the least number of boys. There has been a contest arranged between the Patrols. The Patrol having the most points at the end of the contest will be given a treat by the losers.

On Saturday's Hike Patrol Leader Maynard Austin lost a gray mitten for one hand or the other on the hike Saturday.

The Scoutmaster wound the end of a barbed wire fence around one leg and tried to run off with it. Rodney Brooks thought the poplar tree that looked like a maple wasn't to be trusted. Earl Hutchinson says you can't fool him when it comes to telling apple trees even if you put them in the middle of the woods. Barker Hopkins says it's easy to build a fire if you've got one match, but he thinks it even easier to put it out at this time of year. We were glad that Glendon McAllister didn't have but two legs to be lame from skating. The boys who went on the hike had a lot of fun, and we were sorry none couldn't have been along to enjoy it. We hope you won't miss it next time.

FAMOUS BETHEL FIRE 31 YEARS AGO

About 10 o'clock on the night of Dec. 9, 1906, Bethel's firemen were called to fight one of the village's worst fires. When discovered the blaze had doomed the store of G. M. Forbush, on the site now occupied by the L. W. Ramsell Co., and the Masonic Hall on the upper floor. The blaze was extinguished by one o'clock, but the crews were again called an hour later to combat flames which had broken out in the adjoining stores of E. H. Young and E. E. Randall.

Good work was done, with six streams of water trained on the burning building. While removing goods from the Young store, A. M. True, Will Poole and Frank Robertson were severely injured when an explosion occurred in the basement. Mr. True being in a Portland hospital for some time. According to The Bethel News of that week the damage suffered by the merchants was estimated at $12,500.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Merrill were Mrs. Irene Thomas and daughter Constance of Andover, Mrs. Minnie Allen and Mrs. Adelaide Burgess of Jay.

MANY WITNESS GUILD PLAY "THE OLD PEABODY PEW"

A large and appreciative audience witnessed the play, "The Old Peabody Pew," sponsored by the Junior Guild and given at the Congregational Church on Monday evening. It was a play portraying the work and struggle of the ladies of the church in years gone by and not unlike the present day problems that the ladies' organizations of the churches meet and endeavor to solve.

The thread of romance woven into this delightful little story was a pleasing feature and like all stories had a happy ending.

It might seem unfair to make mention of any one individual's acting so well did they all take their chosen parts.

Miss Leavengood read the Prologue, Interlude and Epilogue in her usual gracious manner and altogether it was an entertainment of high class, cleverly amusing and a most successful affair. Those in charge are very grateful to the townspeople and those of the adjoining towns for their patronage. The net proceeds were nearly $60.

The S. of U. V. Auxiliary will meet at the home of W. H. Hutchinson Friday evening. Besides election of officers there will be a Christmas tree.

FRANKLIN GRANGE

Franklin Grange of Bryant Pond met Saturday evening, Dec. 11. There was a good attendance. The third and fourth degrees were given to Merlin McLaughlin, Velma Cummings, and Richard Felt by Franklin Grange ladies' degree team in a fine manner. Mrs. Flora Cole had charge of the tableau which were very handsome. They had planned for West Paris to give the degrees but they were unable to come. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. Games were played after the meeting.

The State Department of Agriculture reports more than 1,000,000 pounds of the 1937 Maine blueberry crop were processed by freezing.

GOULD WINS 40-36

Gould Academy kept its record clean by stopping a Livermore Falls rally in the closing minutes of what turned out to be a "hair-raising" finish. Both teams battled on even terms during the opening quarter with Gould leading 7-5. With Palmer and Johnson finding the net consistently in the second period Gould forged ahead to a 22-13 lead at the half-way mark. Both teams set an exceptionally fast pace making it an exciting game for the spectators.

The third period was a free scoring affair with Gould increasing its lead by outscoring the visitors 15 to 10, thus assuming the commanding score of 37-23. But! here's where the fireworks started. With Kimball and Rhodenizer dropping basket after basket from all angles of the floor that big lead dwindled down to a mere four points when with a half minute to go Gould took time out. After the rest period they smartly kept the ball away from their opponents until the final whistle blew. It was a great game that left fans from both Bethel and Livermore rather breathless. Johnson led the home team scoring ably assisted by Wentzell who played a great game over his opening performance and also assisted by Palmer who scored eight points in the first half. The guards who scored heavily against Gorham last week had their hands full stopping some very fast Livermore forwards. For the visitors the outstanding men were Kimball, Rhodenizer, and Cloutier.

First League Game At Gould Friday

On Friday the Gould Academy Basketeers will entertain Oxford High School in the local's first Western Maine Conference game. This should be another game well worth seeing. It looks as though Coach Bill Ledger has another high scoring machine in the making. Oxford defeated Mechanic Falls 30-20 and lost to South Paris 38-32 but with a total scoring punch of 62 points in two games they are plenty dangerous.

Coach Anderson's "Blue and Gold" quintet has a shooting eye of its own too, as the team has scored 84 points in two games. It looks like sport fans are going to have plenty of thrills on Friday. This game will start after the preliminary game.

Girls Play at 7:15

At 7:15 the Gould girls' team will make their first appearance of the season, meeting the Oxford girls. Oxford has lost to both Mechanic Falls and South Paris but they have had two games' experience over the local lassies. The starting lineup for the girls as announced by Coach Dorothy Hanscom will be Nancy Philbrook, Patricia Goodwin, and Helen Lowe at forwards and Vivian Berry, Helen Crouse and Geraldine Stanley in the guard positions.

Bethel Band to Play

The Bethel Band will again furnish music before the game and during the intermissions. The large crowd attending the game last week thoroughly enjoyed this added attraction. It is hoped that a great many more fans will avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy a whole big evening's entertainment for one lonely quarter.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Falls, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual, National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

When President Roosevelt called the special session of Congress the country was virtually in a boom stage, as compared with today's conditions. Stocks were at high levels. Reemployment was going ahead on a comfortable scale.
Though unfavorable signs existed, they were few and apparently insignificant, and almost everything pointed to a highly prosperous winter season.

Now, in two months, the picture has changed completely. Stocks, in spite of occasional surges, are holding stubbornly at levels close to the October lows. With few exceptions, industrial production continues to sag. Unemployment is increasing alarmingly. And it is very likely that this winter's relief problem will be as grave as in any year since 1929.

One result of this is a complete change in the attitude of Congress —and, to a lesser degree, a change in the attitude of the Administration. The special session was primarily called for three purposes—the wages and hours law, the farm relief proposal, and the bill to create seven new regional authorities similar to the TVA. It was assumed that these matters would absorb the undivided attention of the session, and that nothing else of importance would be brought up on the floor or in committee.

What has happened? The wage and hours law is in a state of chaos, with warring factions seeking to change it one way or another, and with a strong Congressional bloc opposed to the passage of any law of its type. The chances are against it going through in the special session.

The farm bill is in a similar predicament—it seems almost impossible that a law satisfactory to the various opposed factions in House and Senate can be prepared in months.

The seven regional authorities bill is, according to last reports, completely moribund.

Congress is almost wholly occupied with the business recession, and with proposals designed to prevent it from becoming another major, long-lasting depression. Tax reform seems nearer to achievement than at any time in the last four years. There is definite sentiment in favor of a more conciliatory general policy toward industry. There is a growing feeling that we have gone too far with regulation, especially as it affects the security markets and exchange.

O. K. CLIFFORD CO. INC.
SOUTH PARIS

YOU SAID IT, BIG BOY!

There is a movement on foot to encourage business to spend on a big scale—of which the most significant development is the President's announced policy of a more friendly attitude toward the electric utilities, and his recent talks with utility executives.

The principal question now is,
Can Congress act fast enough and drastically enough to stop the decline? Some recent events have been encouraging, but they by no means assure a change in the downward trend. Whatever happens, it seems impossible for any important change to take place before late January—a fact which augurs badly for the Christmas season.

Some business briefs of interest
follow:

AUTOMOBILES: Production has slackened, and the outlook for new car sales is nowhere near as bright as it seemed even a few weeks ago.
Bad factor is that dealers are heavily overstocked with used cars, are unable to give the favorable trade-ins to which the public has become accustomed, so are losing many deals that would otherwise be made. Also finance companies are demanding larger down and monthly payments, are frowning upon the long-term payment contracts that were made widely during the last three years.

ELECTRIC POWER: A curious situation obtains here. Demand for power has continued to rise, yet power companies have not expanded plant capacity accordingly (normally, the industry plans on keeping two years ahead of demand) because of fear of government competition. Power industry's net earnings have been low. Result: Today the excess of production reserve over current consumption is too small. Hope is that conferences between the President and utility men will lead to widespread expansion.

STEEL: Buying here, as Business Week says, is "on a hand-to-mouth basis." Production is very low. Outlook is poor.

AT THE CITIZEN OFFICE

LUMBER: As usual, production is out of line with consumption.
The sharp decline in residential building, plus darkened prospects for future building of this kind, is a bad factor. In the Northwest and elsewhere, labor troubles are a sharp thorn in the side of the industry.

INDUSTRIAL EARNINGS:
Fourth-quarter profits will be under the same period last year, will mark a big decline from earnings in other quarters of this year.

RETAIL TRADE: Is still expected to be about as good as last year, but the increase that was anticipated some months ago will not occur, on account of fourth-quarter drop.

GIFT SUBSCRIPTIONS POPULAR AND ECONOMICAL

For years our readers have recognized the value of the Citizen as a Christmas gift. The number of gift subscriptions increases year by year and indicates better than we can tell the popularity of the gift subscription idea. If you have a distant friend or relative whose interests remain in our home area, imagine their appreciation of your gift subscription, repeated 52 times through the coming year.

Special rates apply to two or more gift subscriptions when ordered at one time, and we send announcement cards if you wish.

One subscription, $2.00

Two or more, $1.50 each

If ordered with two or more gift subscriptions your own new or renewal subscription may be included at the lower rate.

Write or phone for our lowest rates on any magazines or newspapers or combination subscriptions.

THE LOW DOWN from HICKORY GROVE

About every other day, when you pick up a paper you will see where they are shootin' another dozen or one-half dozen, over there in Russia. And pretty soon they are gonna have to do quite a little lookin' around, to find people to shoot.
Like in the early days in the U. S., they had plenty of buffalo and they thought they would never run out of 'em, and they shot 'em just
for a buffalo robe.

And some day
it will maybe be the same in Russia. And it is kinda funny that you will find people here in the U.

S. A., on soap boxes and other places, here and there—and you will find 'em favorin' making over our own Govt., and try out some foreign idea, or some lam or asm that has not been used but sounds great.

But the ducks talkin' up these big ideas, they would not be so hot for 'em, except they figure they maybe can be the top-sergeant, with a nice new job, and a new fur lined overcoat—and not the guy standin' up against the wall.
Yours, with the low down,
JO SERRA

1-MINUTE SAFETY TALKS

By Don Herold

I was thinking about a blonde I met last week in Topeka

Remember Pedestrians

Nearly half of the 36,800 people killed by automobile accidents in the United States last year were pedestrians, according to figures released by The Travelers Insurance Company.

In most cases, the pedestrians asked for it.

It is seldom that automobiles come up on the sidewalk and chase pedestrians. Sometimes they do, but not often.

As a rule, a pedestrian wants it and walks out where he can get it.

He'll pit his frail, watery flesh and fragile bones against a ton or two of thundering steel and glass and flaming fire.

He'll put his life in the hands of drivers of cars coming at him at 25 to 75 miles an hour—drivers, many of whom, if he knew them personally, he wouldn't trust with ten cents worth of dog meat.

He'll walk along a country road with his back to traffic (instead of facing it as he should) and leave it to the assorted morons, nit-wits, kids, drunks and a certain percentage of careful, intelligent drivers to see that they don't bump him into kingdom come.

He won't be a sissy, so instead of waiting for traffic lights in city streets he'll dart out into a mess of swift traffic and jump around among speeding cars like a fox in the middle of a pack of hounds.

He'll cross in the middle of the block. (4,640 killed this way last year.) He'll step out from behind parked cars without peeking (1,320). He'll cross busy intersections catty-cornered.

Of course, some pedestrians are children whose parents haven't taught them the danger of playing in streets, but most pedestrians who get killed or maimed by motor cars ask for it and—GET IT!

I'd say that it ought to be easy to eliminate 10,000 pedestrian deaths a year—if the pedestrians were interested.

GOULD ACADEMY NOTES

Declamations were given by the following students this past week: Elizabeth Field, Herbert Foote, Dana Brooks, Linwood Mason, David Kirk, Maurice Brooks, Everett Gavel, William Howe, Helen Crockett, Julia Kasregis, Helen Lowe, Mary Buck, Lee Hutchins, Bernard Bartlett, Barbara Whittemore, Archer Waterhouse, David Roberts, Maurice Brooks, Arlene Brown, Ina Bean, Myrtle Lanester, Patricia Goodwin, Mellen Kimball, Anne Fing, Jessie Brooks, Mildred Kasregis and Anna Logofet.

A meeting of the Girl Reserves was held in the Assembly Room after school Tuesday, Dec. 14. After the roll call and secretary's report, Christmas Carols were sung. Nancy Philbrook read two Christmas poems, then Miss Roop gave a very interesting talk on her trip to Alaska. Carols were again sung and the program concluded by refreshments of ice cream and cookies served in the Home Economics cottage.

A Christmas dinner is to be served in the dormitory on Thursday and at 7:15 the whole school will meet in the gymnasium for an annual Christmas party with a program of Christmas Carols, after which general dancing will be enjoyed with music by Lord's Orchestra, with Christmas candy as refreshments.

Christmas vacation starts Friday afternoon at 3:30. School will be resumed with Chapel at 8:20 on Tuesday, Jan. 4. The opening has been set back a day for the benefit of the pupils who must come by rail or bus since train and bus connections have become increasingly difficult with curtailed transportation schedules on Sunday.

The Principal of Gould Academy wishes to call to the attention of the parents of the students that as far as possible, the Academy students will be given the opportunity to use the skating rink after school on week-days in order that study hours may be observed every evening during the school terms, except Friday and Saturday evenings.

The following program will be presented at Chapel exercises Friday morning:

Bible Selection "Adeste Fideles," School "Ballad of the Epiphany" by Charles Dalmon, Esther Pike "Away in the Manger," Girls' Choir "Deck the Hall with Boughs of Holly," School "Silent Night," Entire Choir

With the first two years of trans-Pacific air service completed last month, Pan American Airways has flown 1,888,773 miles in regular service without accident, carried 3,562,976 airmail letters, 505,944 lbs. other cargo, and 1,986 passengers.

Maine was the only state in the northeast to show an October farm income below that of last year, due to low potato prices. Total income from January to October, however, is substantially above that of recent years.

CHRISTMAS APPROACHES THE Oxford County United Parish

As Christmas draws near we are glad to wish for all of you a very happy Christmas Season. May these days of preparing for Christmas not be so much of a rush and worry that the joy of them may be crowded out.

Those in charge of the Christmas Boxes sent to carry a bit of cheer to the lonely and wherever needed will be very happy to receive any gifts of money or materials. If you have anything you would like to give you can send the same to Mrs. Bertha Andrews, Mrs. Charlotte Fillebrown, Mrs. Cora Fox, Mrs. Minnie Littlefield, Mrs. George Holt, Mrs. R. E. Pinkham, Mrs. Harry Watson, members of the committee for their communities, or to other member of the Staff.

The Christmas celebrations are beginning this week. Following the Circle Suppers at East Stoneham and Center Lovell on Thursday and Friday evenings respectively, the Community Christmas Trees for those places will be held. Then on next Tuesday evening we will gather for the Community Celebration at North Waterford. On Thursday evening of next week Albany holds their big annual event. The Waterford Tree, for South, East, and Waterford will be held on Friday evening.

At Waterford Sunday morning Prof. Zerby of Bates College will conduct the service. At 7 p. m. will be a Vesper Service for all the Parish at the Waterford Church. At this time a piano, given by Mrs. Fillebrown in memory of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Morse, will be dedicated. The adult choir and the combined junior choirs will sing. This will be a service with plenty of Christmas song, light and cheer.

The Christmas services will be held on Sunday at the usual hours in all the Churches.

The service at the Church at Albany will be the last one held there until next spring. During the winter the services will be held at the School Houses or at some of the homes. We hope the people of Albany will try to be present in large numbers on Sunday morning in order to make this service one of great value.

We are very sorry to report that Mrs. Gledhill has been removed to the Dixon Hospital at Norway. Recovery from her accident at Thanksgiving time seems to have been retarded lately.

"Is the Universe, including Man, evolved by atomic force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Dec. 19.

The Golden Text is "Thou, O Lord, shalt endure for ever; and thy remembrance unto all generations. Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the work of thy hands" (Psalms 102: 12, 25).

The citations from the Bible include the following passages: "Praise ye the Lord, praise ye the name of the Lord; praise him, O ye servants of the Lord. For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods. Whatsoever the Lord pleased, that did he in heaven, and in earth, in the seas, and all deep places" (Psalms 135: 1, 5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes selections from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Testimonial meetings at 7:30 p. m. on the second Wednesday of each month until May.

Owing to mechanical difficulties causing a two days delay it has been necessary to shorten or omit several contributions intended for this issue.
